On Monday the 2d day of September next, this school will be opened, under the auspices of Mr. W. H. Bowers, an experiencel and thorough teacher, who comes among us with the Lest recommendations as a scholar and educator.

We are assured that he possesses in an eminent degree all the qualifications essential to the conduct of a successful school. Although an excellent classical scholar, and well versed in all the higher branches usually taught in our best schools, he delights in teaching smaller boys, and by his kindness and close attention to them, leads them rapidly forward in their studies:

We appeal to the citizens of Bolivar and vicinity, to assist us in sustaining this school. We believe that Mr. Bowers will, if he list proper encouragement, in the beginning of the enterprise, build up a school of high grade.
